

Summer 2017

Turn to Earthy Cook to spice up your entertainment décor

Nicola Bokaba is the CEO of Earthy Cook (Pty) Ltd.

She was born and bred in Ga-Rankuwa where she has set up her business.

Nicola founded Earthy Cook in February 2016. She loved watching woodwork tutorials online and that's when she learned more about wood work and fell in love with this versatile medium.

She started out making Mafetlho (traditional pap-making whisks) from her garage, and grew her business from there.

Pictured below are some of the items that she manufactures:

As her products grew, Nicola decided to move her company into one of the NWDC factories in Ga-Rankuwa, North of Pretoria. She has been renting a factory from the NWDC from March 2017 and is looking forward to renting another factory where she would keep her final products in storage.

Earthly Cook manufactures hand-made, personalised and customer branded products for the home and hospitality industry. Apart from herself, the company currently employs two more employees.

Earthly Cook would like to be one of the leaders of designer, tailor- manufactured kitchenware and serve ware.

To get in contact with Earthly Cook to view their products or place an order, please use the contacts below:

Contact: Nicola Bokaba
Phone: 082 454 9774
Email: nicolab@earthlycook.co.za
www.earthlycook.co.za

For more information on this article, contact:

Shereen Majwafi, Marketing & Communications Administrator, NWDC

014 594 2570