Special SMME Feature

The company has employed four staff from a special school to develop their skills in sewing.

Looking towards the future, they strive to employ at least 20 individuals by the year 2020.

Diversifying towards the future

Agnes not only manufactures bedding and curtains but has developed a product that can be used as a bread spread, salad dressing or as a dip. People are in love with the sauce and are ordering it in large numbers. Currently Agnes is working at finding solutions to the challenge of acquiring appropriate machinery to produce enough quantity to supply her customers. Agnes says that as soon as she is able to acquire these assets, can she realise her dream of hiring twenty people in the next coming years.
