RECOSTC COMPUTERS & CAREER

Thato Letshufi, owner of Recostc Computers & Career is one determined and focused young woman.

Born and bred in Lehurutshe, Thato studied PC Engineering in Johannesburg at GP College. No job opportunities in Johannesburg saw Thato returning to her home town and becoming a regular at Internet Cafés in her effort to look for employment.

Not one to be discouraged, Thato was presented with an opportunity when an associate of hers made an offer to her to take over an existing company namely Recostc Computers & Career. With no capital to fall back on, Thato embraced the challenge and took over the business. Perseverance soon paid off and with monthly installments, the business was paid for in full.

A hiccup with the SETA saw Thato having to explore other avenues of business in order to continue being sustainable. The integration of an internet café, assisting with SARS tax clearances (and the printing thereof) designing stationary and making copies soon proved viable. The added advantage that the Lehurutshe complex is in a public place greatly assists and the business is busy.

However, when one spends some time with Thato, you notice that there is more to this young lady than just a beautiful face. When questioned as to what her future dreams are, she very quickly replies agricultural farming! There is no doubt that Thato will, in the very near future, realise that dream too.
